

For Immediate Release – December 18, 2014 – Phoenix, Arizona

Family Review & Award Center [familyreviewcenter.com] annually awards the best of the best with the Best Of The Year Award, from the multiple reviews they conduct each and every year since 2000. This award is granted only to those companies that have products worthy of such an honor, by being well made, well priced and well placed within the marketplace to be a help to American families.

The Best Of The Year Award is granted to those products that the Family Review Center Panel of Judges feel meet the rigid criteria set forth to ensure the products represented are those that are of great value to those within their sphere of influence and reach.

This year there were a total of 10 Winners of this prestigious Award and 3 honorable mentions.

The winner is Senseez Heart Pillow – Review #3046

- Company Name: Senseez Pillows
- Product Price: $39.99

“Visitors are never disappointed!” said Rita Brenke, Executive Editor. “They come back for more because they cannot get enough of the great new products we find and bring to them. These are products they don’t find many other places. We offer large and small, unique and common. We like to share them all with our viewers so they do not have to wander far to find the things they need and the things they never knew they needed until we showed them what they can do for their life!”

Rita then shared “Because our Product Reviews are Free, we are able to share more of the smaller products as well as large. We cater to small businesses, startups, entrepreneurs that are looking to get the word out about what they have to offer. We offer something for everyone.”
